Course Introduction

Credit Hours: 3

Prerequisite Courses: none

Class Meets: Tuesdays 9:00 – 12:30

Course Introduction: This course aims at rethinking the European Security Architecture in the new geopolitical environment created by the 2022 invasion of Ukraine. The objective of the course is primarily to teach students how to provide impartial expertise on security affairs. Students will also learn to develop analytical and anticipation skills on international affairs in general. Last but not least, students will have to demonstrate a capability to give oral presentations and to exchange views with interlocutors conveying opposite ideas.

Instructor/Course

Attendance policy: Attendance and active classroom participation are required of each student. Tests will cover for all course material provided through lectures and presentations, readings, discussions, cases, and videos during class.

Participation policy: Absences and/or a lack of participation in discussions will impact negatively on the final grade. Each student is responsible for all material covered and/or assigned and any announcements made in any class session, whether student is present or not. Group activities require all students to participate and contribute to group discussions and projects. Students are expected to come to class on time and to have read assigned material before class. There may be an occasional pop quiz to verify whether students have read the assignments before class.

Late assignment and missed exam policy: All work must be turned in on time. Late work may be accepted but points will be taken off if work is not turned in to instructor when it is due. At all times, in class and group discussions, students are expected to respect contributions, questions, and opinions of other people. Demeaning others in any way is not acceptable.

Scholastic Dishonesty: Students are expected to do their own academic work and cite sources as necessary. Failing to do so is scholastic dishonesty. Scholastic dishonesty means plagiarizing; cheating on assignments or examinations; engaging in unauthorized collaboration on academic work; taking, acquiring, or using test materials without faculty permission; submitting false or incomplete records of academic achievement; acting alone or in cooperation with another to falsify records or to obtain dishonestly grades, honors, awards, or professional endorsement; altering, forging, or misusing a university academic record; or fabricating or falsifying data, research procedures, or data analysis. If it is determined that a student has cheated, he or she may be given an "NP" for the course and may face additional sanctions from the European Study Center.

Academic Standards: The general academic standards at students' home institution apply to this course.
